

ACTORS, AUTHORS & ARTIFACTS

In Memory of Ann Rutherford

This year's event is dedicated to the memory of our beloved Ann Rutherford, who we know, would have been on hand to celebrate the museum and city she loved so much. Appropriately, artist Joseph Yakovetic will be here to help us celebrate our anniversary by painting a likeness of Ann to be auctioned on Sunday morning prior to the autograph signing. As is the norm, Joe will be painting the portrait of Ann as our activities take place and you will be able to watch his progress throughout the weekend. Joe is a wonderfully gifted artist who was commissioned in 2009 by Warner Bros. to create paintings relating to Gone With the Wind for the 70th anniversary. His work is on display and available for purchase at the museum. If you haven't seen Joe's work, prepare to be dazzled!

Speakers will share their stories of Chris following an anniversary reception in the city hall chambers lobby. As many of the museum's lifelong fans know, it has not always been an easy road keeping the museum going and finding ways to present these annual events to them and to the public. For that reason, this 10-year celebration is even more special and we hope you will all join us for the festivities. And, with great pleasure, we will honor a devoted fan and avid supporter of the museum at the 2nd Annual Windie Awards Ceremony for year 2013. This award was created for the fans (known as "windies") that support and promote the museum from year to year.
